

In the Abstract:

Please ADD, on a separate sheet, the Abstract attached hereto.

An implantable replacement joint includes first and second components having respective bores, and a flexible member within a cavity formed by the respective bores.